

Eliminate Stove-Piped Data

Using our cloud-based Build environment, Analysts construct data workflows which blend disparate datasets with data analytics to discover the answers hidden within your data.

Integrate Data Easily

brewlytics connects seamlessly with on-premise and cloud data sources of all types and sizes. Utilize data from your own enterprise holdings and blend it with countless datasets from across the Internet. Inevitably your data holdings and needs will change. With brewlytics new datasets are rapidly integrated for use within new and existing workflows.

Start Integrating Today

brewlytics is a self-service data analytics platform that enables analysts to solve and automate their organization's most challenging data analysis problems. Without writing a line of code, intuitively capture data processing workflows and expose the results through custom Web-based dashboards.

